DEATH OF ANNE ISABELLA, BARO-NESS NOEL BYRON.

The death of this distinguished lady has been already announced. This sad event occurred on the 16th of May, at No. 11 St. George's Terrace, Regent's Park, London.-She was sixty-eight years of age at the period of her death. Downger Lady Byron, Baroness Wentworth, was born May 17, 1792. She was the only daughter of Sir Rulph Milbanke, afterwards Noel of Seabam, in the county of Durham. She was nearly connected by blood with the families of Lord Wentworth, Lord Melbourne and others of the English no-

On the 2d of January, 1815, she was married to Lord Noel Byron.

Lord Byron addressed her about a year previous, and, although his suit was not at that time accepted, yet her refusal was accompanied with every assurance of esteem and regard, and a friendly correspondence was kept up between them. A second application, in September, proved successful. Prior to the nuptials, in a letter to Leigh

Linnt, dated, Oct. 15, 1814, Byron wrote: * "I am about to be married, and am, of course, in all the misery of a man in pursuit of happiness. My intended is two hundred miles off, and the efforts I am making with lawyers, &c., &c., to join my future connections are, for a personage of my single and inveterate habits, to say nothing of indoence, quite prodigious."

In another letter, speaking of Lady B. during the term of his engagement, he said: "What an odd situation and friendships is ours! Without one spark of love on either side, and produced by circumstances which, in general lead to coldness on one side and aversion on the other. She is a very superior woman, and very little spoiled, which is strange in an heiress-a girl of twenty-a peeress that is to be in her own right-an only child and a savante who has always had her own way. She is a poetess, a mathemadielan, and, withal, very kind, generous and gentle, and with very little pretension. Any other head would be turned with half her acquisitions and a tenth of her advantages.'

Lord Byron, in a letter to Mr. Murray, dated Kirby, June 6, 1815, four days subseqent to the marriage, says: "The marriage took place on the 2d inst.; so pray make haste and congratulate away. In a letter to Mr. Moore, dated the 10th of the same month, Byron alluded to his marriage in these words: "I was married this day week. The parson has pronounced it-Perry has pronounced it-and the Morning Post also, under the head of "Lord Byron's Marriage," as if it were a fabrication, or the puff direct of a new story maker." The disastrous result of the marriage appears to have been anticipated by Byron, even at the bridal altar. The "coming events cast their shadows before." Lord Byron's prose account of the wedding, in his suppressed memoirs, is said by Mr. Moore to have greed closely in all its his poetical description of it in " The Dream. It is to be inferred from Byron's published correspondence that, even at this wedding, the thoughts of his first love, of Mary Claworth, of Annesley Hall, whom he so poetically termed his "Bright Morning Star, of Annesley," were present to his imagination. Annesley Hall and all its fond associations floated like a vision before his thoughts, and on the point of pronouncing his nuptial yows. A marriage contracted under such circumstances, could not but be unhappy.

After the marriage, or towards the month of March following that event, Lord Byron and lady took up their residence in London. where they lived in splendor and expense, far beyond Byron's income, and he soon became deeply involved in the most distressing pecuniary embarrassments.

About the first of February, 1816, a separation between Lady Bryon and her husband took place. She had left London a few days before on a visit to her father in Leicestershire, and Lord Byron was to follow her as soon as he could make some arrangements of his financial affairs. The two parted in kindness. She wrote him, on the road, a letter in a style of the most playful fondness imaginable, but immediately on her arrival at Kirby Mullory-the seat of her family-the father wrote, informing him (Byron) that she would not again return,-They never afterwards

The particular causes of this event still remain in obscurity; and in all that can be gathered from the epistles and poems of the great poet, although somewhat contradicting in themselves, he takes the onus of blame of the separation from his wife on himself.

Byron's daughter was married July 8, 1835, to William King, Earl of Lovelace. She died November 7, 1852. Adminherited the restless disposition of her father; and, nithough of good natural abilities, of a mathemotical turn of mind, she delighted in specnlating in railway shares and on the turi.

In 1830 Lady Byron wrote a letter and caused it to be published, expnerating her father and mother from charges connected with her separation from her husband-of which they had been accused-but throwing no further light upon the subject. Lady Byron succeeded, November 12.

1856, to the barony of Wentworth. She was noted for her mental attainments and for her liberal disposition. In 1856 she sent the sum of $350 to the New England Kansas will say to all, who feel interested, that I am now emigration Society, and she figured frequent inspecting of TOBACCO in the corporation Tobacemigration Society, and she figured frequent ly as a contributer to philanthrophic enter-

THE ROBINSON & LAKE

Under the personal supervision and direction of Dr. R. H. STABLER, Chemist, of this city.

THIS FERTILIZER

We confidently recommend, as the most permanent and cheapest yet offered to the public. Being composed of

NO. 1 PERUVIAN & SOMBRERO

GUANOS, OF OUR OWN

DIRECT IMPORTATION.

FROM THE

Chincha & Sombrero Islands. WE WARRANT IT IN EVERY RESPECT.

THE SOMBRERO GUANO, Before being mixed, is rendered immediately soluble, by the addition of Sulphuric acid. This treatment is universally recommended by the most eminent Agricultural Chemists. Without it, the action of the two Guanos when mixed is not simultaneous, and consequently comparatively inefficient.

This is the ONLY mixture of the Ammoniated and Phosphatic GUANOS we know of, yet offered to the Agricultural community, in a REALLY

SOLUBLE form. Price $50 per Ton of 2,000 lbs. Our reports from those who applied the above FERTILIZER to their crops last fall, are highly satisfactory-so much so, indeed, as to convince us that our Soluble Phosphated Perurian Guano will ere long be altogether used in this section, as a substitute for the Peruvian Guano, which, without the addition of Phosphates, tends rather to exhaust than permanently improve the soil. ap 19-dif

This fine brand of CHAMPAGNE, which until the past year was confined exclusively to the best tables of the Continent of Europe, has now obtained the most unbounded success and popularity in this country. It is recommended by some of the first Physicians of the City of New York, over all other wines, on account of its extreme purity and delicacy, and those who once try it rarely use any other brand. Although only one year has elapsed since its introduction into this country, the demand is enormous and constantly increasing. Our arrangements are such as to ensure the quality of the Wine being maintained at its present high standard. The Prince Imperial is imported solely by us, we being the sole Agents of Messrs.
